On Second Thought...

This past Sunday morning I was headed to church, right on time to arrive at 8:15 as usual. As I turned right off of Lyons View Rd. onto Kingston Pike, I was stopped suddenly by KPD officers who were there controlling traffic for the Knoxville Marathon. "Oh man!" I thought, "I didn't realize that was today!"

Usually, I'm aware of when the marathon is happening and go a different route to avoid as much of it as I can. (Although, given the route, it is impossible to avoid entirely when coming to our building.) With the pandemic the last two years, however, the date has shifted around and I haven't really paid attention like I should. I ran into the same issue last fall.

Anyway, as I was driving slowly up Kingston Pike in the one lane assigned to me, I saw hundreds and hundreds of runners in the south two lanes being cheered on by family and friends. It was very inspiring, though maybe not inspiring enough to make me want to run that far. Since I was in the frame of mind of preparing for worship, however, a Biblical image came to my mind – that of Easter morning.

When Mary Magdalene came to the tomb on Easter morning and saw that the stone had been removed from the entrance, she ran! She ran to tell Peter and John, who ran together back to the tomb, with John outrunning Peter. That's a lot of running very early in the morning – kind of like the Knoxville marathon.

Easter Sunday is April 17th this year. Besides Easter, that day will also mark another momentous occasion. It will be the 50th anniversary of the Boston Marathon allowing women to compete for the first time. Nina Kuscsik emerged from the field to win the women's race that day, and all eight of the female runners completed the 26.2 mile course. Ms. Kuscsik wasn't the first woman to run in the Boston Marathon, however.

In 1966, Roberta Gibb became the first woman to run the full Boston Marathon. She wasn't allowed to officially enter, however, so she hid in the bushes and jumped into the race when it began. The next year, in 1967, Kathrine Switzer registered as K.V. Switzer, not identifying herself as a woman. When she started to run and officials realized she was a woman, they tried to remove her from the race by grabbing her and ripping off her bib number. Her boyfriend shoved the man to the ground and she finished the race in about four hours and 20 minutes.

Much has changed in the last 50 years. Almost 450 women crossed the finish line in last week's Knoxville Marathon. There were 13,684 women in the most recent Boston Marathon (2019) and 11,982 of them crossed the finish line. This year organizers expect around 14,000 women runners in Boston. Among them will be a team of 8 women who will participate in honor of those original eight finishers from 1972, including one of the original eight, Valerie Rogosheske.

Just as 1972 was a turning point for female marathoners, Easter morning was a moment of truth for the followers of Jesus. Until that point, Mary Magdalene isn't mentioned much in John's Gospel. The only clear mention is that there were three Mary's standing near the cross of Jesus, one of whom was Mary Magdalene.

But suddenly, Mary Magdalene slips into the race. Like Roberta Gibb popping out of the bushes, Mary Magdalene makes a dramatic appearance. She comes to the tomb first – early in the morning as soon as the sun comes up. When she finds the tomb empty, she runs back to the other disciples and tells them what she has seen. The two men take her seriously and believe her! Well, they believe her enough to race to the tomb, as well, to see for themselves. Then when they enter and see that the tomb is indeed empty, they believe her for real.

I think that the Easter story is a reminder that we need to listen to people who have been overlooked or ignored. They often speak truths we need to hear. To John and Peter's credit, they believed what Mary told him. Whose voices should we be listening to that are speaking truths we desperately need to hear?

Upcoming Events

Maundy Thursday Communion Service

On Thursday, April 14th we will celebrate the sacrament of communion at a service commemorating Maundy Thursday. "Maundy" comes from the Latin word mandatum, which means "commandment". It refers to the Last Supper when Jesus, after washing the disciples' feet, instructs them, "I give you a new commandment. As I have done for you, you also should do for one another." The service will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the chapel, last approximately an hour, and end with a brief Service of Tenebrae (or "Darkness") as we turn towards Good Friday.

The Flowering of the Cross

Everyone is invited to take part in our annual "Flowering of the Cross" on Easter Sunday morning! Bring flowers from your yard, garden, the store, or even the side of the road with you to worship. Then on Easter Sunday morning prior to the service, come and place your flowers on the cross as you enter the sanctuary before you take your seat. Following the service (weather permitting), the cross will be carried outside for all to see and have their pictures made with. This will be the first time since 2019 that we will be able to do this in person, so we know it will be a special treat this year!

Kirkin' o' the Tartans on April 24th

On Sunday, April 24th, we will celebrate our Presbyterian Scottish heritage with a Kirkin' o' the Tartan Service during worship. "Kirkin'" comes from "kirk," the Scottish word for church, so the phrase literally means the "Churching of the Tartan." Most people, however, take it to mean "blessing" of the tartans and the families, regions, and regiments they represent.

Some people claim the origin of this ceremony dates back to the Proscription Act of 1746 placed by the victorious English over the defeated Scots after the Battle of Culloden (1745). Scots outside the British military were forbidden to wear traditional Highland garb. Legend says that Scots would hide a swatch of their clan tartan when going to church services and touch it at a specific time during the services to recommit themselves to the Lord and their Scottish heritage.

In actuality, the Kirkin' o' the Tartans was created by Dr. Peter Marshall on April 27, 1941, at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C. In those dark days for Britain in World War II, Dr. Marshall, pastor of the church and twice chaplain of the United States Senate, wanted to raise funds for British War Relief and revitalize the pride of Scottish Americans in their heritage.

Meet our Elder Nominees

My name is Zachary Burch, but please call me Zach. I have been a member of various churches my entire life, however 2nd Pres is the first one I have been deeply involved with as an adult. I am part of the discipleship committee, recently lead a Wednesday Bible study, and am on the rotation for teaching Elementary Sunday school. Personally, I have met my two best friends at this church. I am very excited to become more involved with 2nd.

My name is Lisa Henley and I have been a member of Second Presbyterian Church since the late 1990s. I grew up in Johnson City, TN, where I was a member of Covenant Presbyterian Church. When I came to UT, I found Second Presbyterian as it was the closest PCUSA church to where I lived on campus. I immediately felt at home and the rest, as they say, is history! I have been married to my husband, John, for 20 years. We have two boys, who I'm sure most of you know, Dale [17] and Neal [14]. We are so grateful for this community of faith to raise our boys in. I am in my 26th year of teaching in Knox County Schools.

Currently, I serve as the instructional coach at Amherst Elementary. I am humbled and grateful for your confidence in me to serve the church for the second time as an elder.

Elizabeth Seastrunk lives in Knoxville with her 7-pound dog, Oscar, and has been a member of Second Pres for a little over two years. She is the proud mother of two successful adult children, Jacob [28] and Elizabeth [26]. She serves on the Second Pres Preschool Board and helps with live video streaming on Sunday mornings. Elizabeth currently teaches business and marketing courses online through Edmentum and is also the Professional Learning Coordinator with the North Carolina State Department of Education. She taught grades 6-12 face-to-face in North Carolina for 14 years in Cherokee and Henderson Counties. She holds a B.S. in Financial Management from Clemson University, an MAT in Business Education from Winthrop University, and holds National Board Certification in Business Education. Elizabeth is excited about the possibility of serving our church as a Session member.

Terry L. Weaver, Ph. D. is originally from Miami, Florida yet has lived in Tennessee since 1979. He is married to Kay Isbell Weaver from Maryville, Tennessee. Terry taught at Carson Newman for nine years then at Union University in Jackson, Tennessee until retiring in 2014.

Terry has served as an elder at both First Presbyterian Church in Jefferson City, Tennessee and First Presbyterian Church in Jackson, Tennessee. Terry is grandfather [Pop] to Finley Kennedy and Dad to Patricia Kennedy. Terry looks forward to serving Second Presbyterian Church and its congregation.

New Family Worship Area

Last month a number of our young families approached the Worship and Discipleship teams with an interesting request. During the pandemic, as worship was virtual, they found great joy in having the chance to worship together as a family. Coming out of the pandemic, they realized this was a practice they wanted to continue. They did some research and found that a number of congregations are creating “Family Worship Areas” in their sanctuaries so that parents and their young children can worship together. These areas include tables and activities for the children, along with some rocking chairs and other adult seating options so parents can hold their children during worship, if necessary.

Both the Worship and Discipleship teams were impressed with their presentation and with the idea itself. So we have decided to implement a Family Worship Area in the sanctuary beginning Sunday, April 24th. This area will be down front, just in front of the pulpit. Depending on the response and participation, this may eventually include the lectern side. (You may have noticed some of our young families have already begun sitting in this area to get their children used to the idea.)

Research has shown that such Family Worship Areas help children to be more engaged during worship, as well as allow parents to have more to discuss with their children following worship, and throughout the week, about what goes on during worship. It also helps children to feel more included as members of the Body of Christ.

The nursery will still be available for those parents of young children who wish for a more traditional Sunday morning worship experience, while the Family Worship Area will be available for anyone who wishes to worship together as a family. Holly Grimm will be providing activities for the children that allow them to engage the theme for the day in an age-appropriate manner. Our Children’s Worship bags will also still be available for those families wishing to sit further back in the pews.

We are excited about this opportunity to find new ways to engage our young disciples and their parents. We are thankful that our young families felt empowered to reach out and communicate their needs and we are grateful for the opportunity to meet those needs. We know it will be an adjustment for some, but the congregations we have spoken with all say that after the initial adjustment, it has brought an incredible amount of joy not just to the young families, but to the entire congregation!

Dolls Donated to Isaiah 1:17 House

On Wednesday, March 2nd, the Arts & Crafts Group was able to deliver our first batch of dolls to Isaiah 1:17 House. Kristi Whitehead came to the church and was given 8 dolls, as well as the action figures and other toys for boys that had been donated by church members.

The 18" dolls each had hand-made pajamas, play clothes or a "fancy" dress, and each of the baby dolls also had a matching blanket to go with the clothes that came with them.

If you would like to learn more about Isaiah 1:17 House, Kristi will be speaking to the Presbyterian Women at the April 12th meeting (10 a.m. at the church).

Next meeting of the Arts & Crafts group will be April 28th
at 10 a.m.
Come join us!

We are already hard at work, outfitting the next group of dolls.

The church is invited to donate additional toys for the boys who are served by this organization.

Thanks to the Presbyterian Women's group for funding the purchase of the dolls, and for donating additional money to help with the material for the clothes.

Welcome Bonnie Smith

Bonnie Smith is our new Church Administrator. Bonnie comes to us by way of her hometown of Macon, GA, where she and her husband Mark have lived for the past 20 years. They moved to Lenoir City in December, making what Bonnie refers to as their first "semi-retirement" move (Mark being the retiree!)

Bonnie brings a diverse business background to 2nd Presbyterian, including physician practice management, managed healthcare, hospitality/sports management, and church administration. For the past four years, she served as the assistant administrator at Vineville United Methodist Church in Macon.

She and Mark have two adult sons and daughters-in-law in Columbus, GA, and Lynchburg, VA, all of whom are classically trained musicians. She is an enthusiastic pickleball player, and also loves to read and help tend the family's four rescue cats.

She is excited to be part of the team, and looks forward to meeting and working with the staff and members of 2nd Pres. Her new email is bsmith@2ndpres.org. However, don't worry: if you accidentally send something to Audrey, it will come to Bonnie as well.

Dear Parishioners:

Once again, I continue to be amazed by the support and generosity of Knox County citizens for the Juvenile Court Stuffed Animal Drive. I wish everyone could witness the relief and comfort these toys bring to our children who are generally frightened by the circumstances that causes them to be in Court. Rest assured that the stuffed animals we have received, and purchased, will be put to good use. Your recent donation has already made children smile.

Thank you for responding to our call for help.

A place for all people to experience God through renewal, discovery, and hospitality

March 22, 2022

Second Presbyterian Church
2829 Kingston Pike
Knoxville, Tennessee

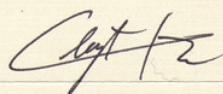

Dear Friends in Christ,

While the temperatures at Massanetta have been mostly COLD so far in 2022, our hearts are warm with gratitude because of you. The last two years have not been easy for any one, and that has been especially true in camp and conference ministry. But because of the generosity of people just like you, Massanetta finds herself thriving.

2022 is the 100th anniversary of Presbyterian ministry on these sacred grounds. We plan to celebrate All. Year. Long. Of course we will celebrate what has happened in the past. Because we are grateful for the ways God meets people here and for how lives are forever changed. But we are also celebrating stepping boldly into a second century of ministry. Now, more than ever, our ability to do that relies on the generosity of the Massanetta Community. Because you invest in our mission, "to be a place for all people to experience God through renewal, discovery, and hospitality," Massanetta continues to be such a place for all who come through our doors.

2021 saw a return to in person summer ministry, and welcoming of Afghan refugees through our partnership with Church World Service. We are slowly seeing the return of church retreats and other guest groups. We can't wait to see what is in store for us in 2022. With your help, we will be changing lives for another 100 years. Your gift of $500 is making that happen even as we speak. Thank you.

In Christ,

Thank you 2PC!

Rev. Clayton Rascoe
Executive Director
Massanetta Springs Camp and Conference Center
