HUNGER

On Second Thought...

Ever wonder where Valentine's Day comes from? I mean apart from all the legends. What are the real origins of Valentine's Day? Is it a Christian holiday? What should be our answer when someone asks us to be their Valentine? In the spirit of fun – and because I couldn't think of anything to write about this month – I thought I would do some research into the origins of Valentine's Day and place them here at your disposal.

As I did some digging, I found that there are as many “origins” of Valentine's Day as there are arrows in Cupid's quiver! Most of them seem to stem from some pagan ritual or other. (Come to think of it, just about every holiday from Christmas to Mother's Day has its roots in some pagan ritual or other. But that's another article for another month!) The story I came across the most in the most reliable sources centered around a holiday that was celebrated in the Roman Empire as early as 4 B.C. This day was called Lupercalia and was observed from February 13th -15th. Without going into too much detail, it was basically a sexual lottery. Towns all over the empire had a box in which you would place your name. On Lupercalia, you would pull a name at random out of the box and...ahem...couple with a young member of the opposite sex. The next year you got to pick another name. Okay.

The best resources say that this ritual was so ancient that by the 1st century most Romans had forgotten where the holiday came from. That didn't keep them from continuing to celebrate it, however! Well, eventually Christianity spread, and Emperor Constantine declared it to be the official religion of the empire. It seems, however, that Christians didn't care too much for this particular holiday. Something to do with the whole “morality” thing. But they apparently didn't think it was all bad because instead of just getting rid of it, they redirected it.

Pope Gelasius (492-496) thought they could use the whole “box” thing to their advantage, so he initiated a custom of placing the names of saints in the Lupercalia box, which were then drawn out of the box on the former Lupercalia Day – February 14th. Whichever saint you pulled out of the box became the saint you were to emulate for the next year. Not a bad concept. Unless, of course, you were to draw the name of Saint Simeon Stylites, who sat on top of a pillar for most of his adult life, never leaving it for any reason, as some sort of spiritual discipline. Ummm....yeah.

Okay, great. So, who is Saint Valentine? Again, there are many stories. But perhaps the most reliable is that before Christianity became the “law of the land” he was a martyr for the faith who was executed and buried (supposedly) on February 14th, 269. He did not have anything to do with the encouragement of romantic love. One story says he was a priest who secretly performed marriages when Emperor Claudius II forbade marriage in the empire as a way to ensure that his soldiers had no family ties. (Think of the movie Gladiator!) Another story says that while he was in prison for his faith, he cured the jailer's daughter of blindness. Then, the day before his execution on February 14th, he sent a farewell message to the daughter and signed it, “Your Valentine.”

The most accurate records of Valentine's Day show up during the Middle Ages, which is when our modern celebration of the holiday began. By this time, the church's idea that Valentine's Day would be a spiritual, saint-centered holiday had given way to the notion that it was a day devoted to love. One of the first mentions of it as a special day dedicated to lovers occurs in Geoffrey Chaucer's 14th century poem, “Parlement of Foules”. Duke Charles of Orleans sent the first Valentine's Day card to his wife in 1415 when he was being held prisoner in the Tower of London. It is still on display at the British Museum. By 1450 Valentine was no longer remembered as the name of a person, but referred, instead, to the name of one's sweetheart. In 1533 a Valentine was a folded piece of paper. By 1610 “valentines” were gifts given to sweethearts. And by the 1800’s it had again become messages exchanged by couples.

So...Valentine’s Day is not just a holiday manufactured by card companies to increase revenues. It is an ancient celebration of love, though not one rooted in the church or its doctrine. But just to be on the safe side, this year when someone asks you to be their “valentine”, you might want to check and make sure if they are asking you to be their sweetheart... or their martyr!

Grace and peace...

SCOUT SUNDAY

Scout Sunday will be Sunday, February 3rd. For over 100 years Boy Scouts has enjoyed the support of religious organizations. Our own Troop 6 was founded on January 29, 1915 and is the oldest troop in the Great Smoky Mountain Council. Second Presbyterian Church has been the charter organization since 1916. Together we have enriched the spiritual lives of youth for over four generations. We will celebrate this long history of common service in worship together, as members of Troop 6 will join us in worship.

SECOND SUNDAYS AT 6

February's Second Sunday Service at 6:00 p.m. will be held in the sanctuary, led by Carson-Newman University's "Redemption." Under the direction of Dr. Angela Holder, Chair and Professor of Music, Redemption is an auditioned small ensemble of singers and instrumentalists that performs in concerts and chapels on campus and takes numerous off-campus trips to area high schools and churches. Their repertoire includes a blend of choral and contemporary Christian music.

Women's Connection at Montreat (August 9-11)

Last year, several women from 2nd attended the Women's Connection Conference; and we hope others will consider joining us this year for a weekend of fellowship, thought-provoking speakers and workshops, and the beauty of Montreat.

This year's keynote speaker is Valarie Kaur, a civil rights activist, award-winning film maker, faith leader, and founder of the Revolutionary Love Project. The UKirk students heard Valarie speak at College Conference a few years ago and are still talking about it. Her message is sure to be engaging and inspiring!

The dates are August 9-11, and the cost varies depending on your rooming preferences. If you're interested in going, please contact Sarah Morgan. If you want to learn more about the conference, visit their website:

www.montreat.org/events/women.

Deadly! – A Wed. Night Study

Join Pastor Tim in the Fellowship Hall on Wednesdays in February at 6:05 p.m. to as we examine the so-called Seven Deadly Sins to see what they are all about, why they have been lifted up as the most dangerous sins, and what it all means for Christians living in the world today.

Session Meeting in February

Due to a men's home basketball game on the 3rd Tuesday of February, the Stated Session meeting for February will take place on the 4th Tuesday of the month, February 26th.

Annual Congregational Meeting and Souper Bowl Luncheon

The annual meeting of the congregation of Second Presbyterian Church, Knoxville, will be held following worship on Sunday, February 3rd. food in bulk in order to maximize the impact that every donation has on reducing hunger. Our young people will be collecting nonperishable food items and donations for hunger relief following worship and at the luncheon.

We are asking everyone to sign up to bring either soup, salad, bread, or dessert. (Please bring soup in a crock pot.) Sign up sheets are available in the Atrium and online via the bottom of the home page on the church website. The sign up link is also provided in our weekly email blasts. Presbyterian Women February Report

The women of Second Presbyterian Church first organized themselves as a service group in 1868 and have continuously contributed their services to God through the church into the 21st century.

Presbyterian Women, with Catherine Beals as Moderator, has completed a restructuring of the organization and we will be reporting to the congregation monthly about PW's activities with an open invitation to all the women of the church and visitors to join us in one or more of our four circles at any time! PW will also hold all-circle group luncheon/program meetings at announced times to include all men and women and visitors of Second Church.

Arts and Crafts Circle, led by Cheryl Ragsdale (865-684-8999), meets the third Thursday each month at 10:00 at Second Church in Room 56, across from the Library.

During the winter months the circle is concentrating on the knitting of prayer shawls to give to those with serious illness and/or are homebound. There will also be an opportunity for knitting and crocheting instruction.

House and Garden Circle, led by Ileen Cheek (865-247-5258), meets the fourth Tuesday each month at 10:00, first gathering in the atrium to start the morning's activity somewhere in the church.

Their most recent project was the decoration/removal of decorations for Christmas, including the receiving, preparing, and caring for the poinsettias. The circle has immediate plans for a reorganization of closets and storage spaces in Second Church facilities. Gardening projects will begin with springtime.

Bible Study Circle, led by Helen Grant (865-693-1980), meets the second Tuesday each month from 10:00-11:00, in the Mary Chambers Room. Each lesson is complete and all visitors are welcome to attend one or all study classes as they wish.

This year the circle is studying a series on "God's Promise: I Am With You" using examples from both the Old and New Testaments to illustrate God's faithfulness to be with us in both good and bad times.

The study for Tuesday, February 12, 2019, is entitled "God With Us When We're Powerless" and uses as scripture 2Chronicles 20:1-30 and Deuteronomy 20: 1-4. The February study focuses on Jehoshaphat, a rare good ruler of the southern kingdom (Judah), who did seek God in his life and in his actions as a king.

Mission Circle, led by Charlotte Klieman (865-922-8453), meets the fourth Wednesday at 3:00 each month to gather in the atrium to begin the day's activity. The goal for the year is to learn more about our community's missionary efforts as well as to continue to support Second Church's own mission outreach.

On November 30, 2018, the Mission Circle visited Susannah's House, which is housed in the former Wesley House on Dameron Avenue near I-275 and Baxter Avenue. Susannah's House is a non-profit, faith-based ministry providing an intensive outpatient recovery program for mothers recovering from substance abuse. The program is licensed by the Tennessee Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services. Our Mission Circle was given a tour of the house and an explanation of the program for mothers determined to recover from opioid addiction. Staffed by professionals in recovery and social services fields and volunteers from the Knoxville community, Susannah's House is in its fifth year of service during which it has served more than 175 women and their children at no charge.

The program will feature Joanie La Torre, the owner of Black Bear Clock Repair (Sevierville area Shop & Great Smokies Flea Market Booth E15). Black Bear Clock Repair is family-owned and operated for two generations. Black Bear repairs services and sells antique timepieces. These can also be brought to the Flea Market on Fridays and Saturdays.

Joanie is a timepiece expert with the Antique Road Show. Besides evaluating timepieces, Joanie will entertain you with stories about Antique Road Show. Currently, Joanie is participating in the filming of a new PBS series, The Governors' Mansions.

Bring your favorite antique clock, watch, music box, chronometer or barometer for a free appraisal and historical background of the piece. (Please come between 11 and 11:30 if you bring an item for appraisal.) For a reservation call Mariann Thuesen at (865)253-7653 by March 5th.

The High Five Award

The High Five Award for February is being given to Tim Wright. Tim grew up at Second and has served the congregation in numerous capacities throughout his life. Currently, Tim serves on the Session, the Budget & Finance team, and is chair of the Personnel Team and the Officer Nominating Team. Tim has helped to conduct annual performance reviews for the staff, regularly checks in with staff members to make sure needs are met and concerns are heard, and was instrumental in rewriting the Personnel Manual for Second Presbyterian Church. This past fall Tim & Patsy invited all returning college students to their house for lunch following Sunday worship, a gesture of hospitality that inspired folks at Sequoyah Hills and Fountain City Presbyterian churches to do the same. Tim is a great “goodwill ambassador” for the congregation, regularly inviting new folks to worship with us and going out of his way to welcome visitors and get to know them. In his spare time, Tim volunteers with Volunteer Assisted Transportation, a ministry that provides rides for seniors and persons with disabilities who need assistance for travel to important appointments. If that’s not enough, in the past year Tim has ministered to his own family by taking the entire crew on an RV trip out west and on a cruise! Tim is a great husband, father, grandfather, elder, mentor, church member, and disciple of Christ who truly embodies what it means to serve others with his life. So next time you see Tim, give him a big High Five!
